BLARNEY TWEEDS.

These goods are manufactured only by Mahony Bros., in Blarney, near Cork, Ireland, and are the most celebrated of all the British woolens. The manufacturers allow them to be sold by only one firm in any town of ordinary size and then only upon the purchase of a large quantity.

GEORGE R. JACKSON

is the only tailor west of Winnipeg whose trade enables him to control these splendid goods, but the quantity he has had to buy of necessity makes his stock the largest in the province. The season being well advanced, and piles of stock yet on hand, he has decided to sell for 30 days the splendid goods at prices which will compare with those who are selling Canadian goods Nothing is said re workmanship, as this establishment is known to be far in advance of all competitors west of what is known as the Far East. PALACIO'S SITUATION.

The Venezuelan ex-President Compelled to Stay at Home and Face the Music.

Sudden Death To-Day of Emmons Blaine, son of the ex-Secretary of State.

Cyrus W. Field's Illness---Flood at New Orleans---News From Eastern Canada.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The Herald's Caracas, W. I., correspondent telegraphs that he is at last able to confirm the news from Caracas, Venezuela, about Palacio. The verification has just been received. Palacio has retired from office and is in hiding somewhere. According to one story he fled to La Guayra and went aboard a vessel which was kept in waiting for him. Another account states that he has not yet left the country. He would have done so, but the members of his Cabinet would not permit him. They hold him responsible for the trouble they are in, and say that they will not allow him to run away and leave them to shoulder all the blame. It was a hard matter to persuade the hot headed dictator that his power was at an end and that the only hope left for his followers was to pretend compliance with the will of the people, substitute personal government for the dictatorship and issue a call to Congress to meet and choose his successor as president of the republic. Palacio and his Ministers had many meetings before the latter could be prevailed upon to follow their advice. Defeat after defeat weakened Palacio's determination, and finally he answered that he would abide by his cabinet's decision. They said the first step for him to take was to resign. Acting upon this suggestion he handed in his notice of retirement. The next thing was to choose his temporary successor. Naturally their choice was Vice-President Villegos, who was present at the conference. He declined. He did not propose, he said, to offer himself up as a martyr. This threw the meeting into the utmost consternation for some time. The cabinet could not think of anyone to fill the perilous position. At length one of those present suggested Minister of War Sarria. After some hesitancy he accepted, but on condition that Palacio should do as he said. This was agreed to and Sarria made known his plan. It was that Palacio should go into hiding in a secret place to be known only to the members of his cabinet, who promised not to betray him to his enemies. When the Dictator had reached his refuge, Sarria was to publicly announce his retirement, declare submission to the people and call upon Congress to name the next president. This was accordingly done. The result is not satisfactory to the revolutionists, who declare that the present congress is filled with men who were not elected, and that the new president must be chosen by representatives legally chosen to the legislature. Crapo and his army are meanwhile continuing their march upon the capital.

James G. Blaine's Second son Dead.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Emmons Blaine, second son of James G. Blaine, ex-Secretary of State, died at 11:15 o'clock this morning at the McCormick mansion, 135 Bush street. He was ill but a few hours, and his death was wholly unexpected. Septicæmia, which developed late last night from bowel complaint, was the immediate cause of death. Mrs. Emmons Blaine, her son McCormick Blaine, two years old, and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, were the only members of the family at the bedside when Mr. Blaine passed away. Death came so swiftly that there was not time to summon the other members of the McCormick family. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCormick were in the house at the time. Ineffectual efforts were made throughout the night to reach James G. and Mrs. Blaine by telegraph to convey the intelligence of their son's condition. The family left Augusta, Maine, several days ago for Bar Harbor, Mr. Blaine's summer residence, but it was impossible last night to effect the delivery of telegrams either to Mr. Blaine or to any one who could transmit a message to him. The New York and Boston representatives of the McCormick company were instructed to exert every effort to convey information to some member of Blaine's family, or to Cyrus McCormick, who went to New York some days ago, but up to noon to-day their efforts availed nothing. Mr. W. G. McCormick immediately assumed charge of all matters incident to the calamitous event. Representatives of the local press and the press associations were admitted to the house a few moments after Mr. Blaine's death and given the statement of the attending physicians, Drs. Billing and Albost, which was as follows: "Mr. Emmons Blaine died at 11:15 o'clock of septicæmia (blood poisoning), due to disease of the bowels." It is impossible to obtain fuller particulars from the medical attendants at this time.

"PRINCE MICHAEL" CONVICTED.

The Great Imposter is Sentenced to Five Years' Imprisonment.

ANN ARBOR, Michigan, June 18.—"Prince Michael" was convicted here last night of criminally wronging G. Bernice Bechel, through the exercise of his so-called religion. In spite of the protests of the defence, the prisoner was ordered to stand up and the judge sentenced him to five years' imprisonment in the State prison at Jackson.

DETROIT, Mich., June 18.—The news of Prince Michael's conviction and sentence was received here late last evening. All good citizens felt that they were rid of an imposter. Prince Michael has between one and two hundred followers in Detroit, and they have been charged with the ruin of many girls, as well as practicing other immoralities. Adultery is permitted by their creed. The conviction of the leader will probably result in breaking up the sect.

The Flood at New Orleans.

NEW YORK, June 18.—A New Orleans special to the World says: City Surveyor Brown, in order to more fully protect this city, has put a force of men at work raising the protecting levee between New Orleans and Jefferson. This levee is on the dividing line. A year ago, when the same work was attempted, the authorities of Jefferson parish got out an injunction against the authorities of New Orleans, preventing them from raising the levee. This injunction was perpetual, but notwithstanding this fact the surveyor began the work and a warrant of arrest has been issued by the Jefferson parish authorities. Brown cannot be found and the work goes merrily on. The water is rapidly covering Jefferson parish, and the people threaten, if the work of raising the protecting levee is not discontinued, to cut the old levee and let New Orleans get a taste of what a crevasse is like.

Stage Held Up.

SAN ANDREAS, June 18.—The stage from Valley Springs to San Andreas was held up on the road near North Branch yesterday afternoon by one masked highwayman, who carried a double barrelled shot gun, holding it over the driver Fred. Wesson, beside whom was sitting two lady passengers. He ordered the box thrown out and then told him to drive on. None of the passengers were searched. The robber wore a black mask. Immediately on arrival of the stage in town, the sheriff and deputies started for the scene, which is in the vicinity of the previous robbery on the same road about a year ago.

Altering Bank Bills.

NEW YORK, June 18.—A special to the World from the City of Mexico says: Two young girls of decent social position have been arrested on a charge of altering the denominations of bank bills. They have been in the habit of changing ten dollars into hundred dollar bills and offering them in payment for purchases at stores.

Cyrus Field Very Ill.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Cyrus W. Field, who a month ago came to his country home at Ardsbury, near Dobbs Ferry, is very ill. His family are very much concerned about him, and think he will not live through the summer. Mr. Field has been confined to his bed for a week and yesterday was reported in a very feeble condition.

A Flirt Suicides.

COLUMBUS, June 18.—Sixteen-year old Theresa Recker has been keeping up a flirtation with George Ebner, not knowing until recently that Ebner had a wife. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Ebner met Miss Recker in South Park and pulled her hair. Last night Miss Recker committed suicide by taking rat poison.

A Rival to the Beaver.

MONTREAL, June 18.—The famous whaling vessel Progress, over 50 years old, arrived in port to-day on her way to Chicago from New Bedford, Mass., to be exhibited at the World's Fair.

Fire in Picton.

PICTON, Ont., June 18.—A fire occurred here this morning, totally destroying the Ontario Wire Fencing company's buildings and storehouse. A lot of valuable machinery and wire fencing were also destroyed. Loss $10,000.

Friendless and Destitute.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 18—Jonas Kissell, who twenty years ago was professor of Latin in the Mark College, yesterday applied for admission to the infirmary house. He is 65 years old, friendless and destitute.

Runaway Accident.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., June 18.—A runaway accident occurred here yesterday, in which two young ladies, Miss Hanlon and Miss McDonald, were seriously injured, the latter probably fatally.

Gold Shipments.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The total gold ordered to-day for shipment to Europe to-morrow is $4,350,000. The total ordered for the week is $7,000,000.

COUNTING THE CHANCES.

Preliminary War of Figures Between Cleveland's Supporters and Opponents.

A Vigorous Campaign Inaugurated To-Day by the ex-President's Lieutenants.

Many Prominent Democrats Arrayed Against Cleveland—The Illinois Delegation.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Active campaign work will be inaugurated by the Cleveland element. So far the interests of the ex-president have been in the hands of ex-Secretary Fairchilds and General Tracey, but these two have done comparatively little so far as aggressive operations are concerned. This morning, however, ex-Postmaster General Don. B. Dickinson, ex-Secretary W. C. Whitney and Harrity, leader of Cleveland's forces in the Keystone State, will have exclusive charge of the political fortunes of the ex-president, and the word of this triumvirate will be law to the subordinate workers as well as the officers.

The Cleveland headquarters at the Grand Pacific have been transferred from the room of Secretary Fairchild to a suite of spacious parlors upon the ladies' floor of the same hotel. They are the finest headquarters in the city, and put those of the Hill men in the Auditorium to the blush. Great care and taste have been exercised in the matter of decorations. Every doorway in the main parlor is an arch of incandescent lights, forming the word "Cleveland," and over the fire place in the next parlor is a massive mirror scroll bearing the historical declaration "A public office is a public trust." A profusion of bunting and flowers and plants gives the headquarters a gallant appearence.

A quantity of Cleveland literature came from the east last night. Scouts will be sent out to meet non-committal delegates from various states. As fast as they arrive, they will be taken in hand by the Cleveland contingent. A good deal of interest is manifested regarding the probable course of the delegation from Illinois. The Cleveland managers claim they will have it solid on the first ballot, but this claim is strongly disputed at Hill's rendezvous in the Sherman House. No regular caucus has yet been held, but an informal poll of the delegation developed the fact that only 14 are outspoken for Cleveland, while 12 are favorable to the candidacy of W. R. Morrison, and 22 either for Palmer or on the fence. General Palmer, however, is unalterably opposed to the use of his name as long as Cleveland is a candidate, and has given out an intimation to that effect in language that cannot be misunderstood. Morrison's boom is generally regarded as weakening, and will scarcely survive the opening of the convention.

Cleveland will be placed in nomination by Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, Congressman Breckenridge, of Kentucky, will be one of the seconds, and ex-Governor Campbell is also expected to add the weight of his voice on the same side. Senator Hill will be nominated by Bourke Cochran, while Hon. John F. Duncombe, the silver-tongued orator of Iowa, will perform a similar service for Governor Boies. According to the present plans of Maryland, Senator Gorman's name will not be formally presented, but will simply be voted for when the state is reached on the call of the roll.

The advance guard of the Wisconsin delegation has put in an appearance.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—A special from Chicago this morning says: Thus far the surface indications are all in favor of Cleveland, but there are not a few shrewd onlookers who would not be surprised if the ex-President was knocked out. The fact is that he has anything but a walk over, and the field is against him. Beyond this, the great managers are out for his scalp, and there are not, all told, a dozen of the men who figure conspicuously in national politics who are for him. Brice has no use for him, and Col. Eugene Higgins loves him not. Watterson makes no effort to conceal his antagonism, and Col. Joe Rickey, of Missouri, says Cleveland is not in it. Then there are Dick Crocker and Billy Sheehan and all the rest of the Tammany gang, who are for Hill and who will stop at nothing to humiliate Grover. If it were not for the two-thirds rule which operates in Democratic conventions, Cleveland would stand a good change for nomination on the first ballot, and two days would probably be sufficient to wind up the whole show; but as it is the struggle is likely to be prolonged. No one can be found who has temerity enough to deny that Cleveland has a flat majority of the 898 delegates who will be here, but even his friends admit that he is nearly 100 short of the 599 necessary to nominate. Of course they claim they will make this all up in good time, and there is a probability of their doing so, but that remains to be seen. They are applying every artifice of politics to make up the discrepancy, while the anti-Cleveland forces are striving with equal energy to keep him down. It is safe to assume that no effort will be spared by practical politicians to break the battle line of the Cleveland forces. This is evidenced by the frank sentiment of the opposition, voiced by such leaders as Gorman, Crocker, Watterson, Brice, and in fact almost every competent graduate and master of the school of practical politics.

A Large Grocery Firm Dissolves.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The grocery firm of Acker, Merrill & Condit has been dissolved. Although the old firm's name still stands over the door of the large stores. The business is now owned by Wm. J. Merrill, the firm was the oldest and largest in the grocery trade in this city, having been formed more than 40 years ago. The history of the house dates back as far as 1820, and its business has grown from thousands of dollars a year into millions. Those concerned would not disclose what basis the settlement was made upon, but it is understood the sum involved was more than $1,000,000.

OTTAWA NEWS.

Mr. Blake's Offer—Sir John Thompson as a Bulldozer—Welland Protest.

OTTAWA, June 18.—It is reported here that Hon. Mr. Blake will accept the offer of the Irish party of a seat in the Imperial Parliament under certain conditions.

Lowell's election in Welland is protested. One of the reasons given for the protest is that the lists used were not the same as those finally revised by the department. If this is good ground no man is safe. The officers can make a blunder which no one but the department can know and the election becomes void.

Hon. Michael Adams, M.P., for Northumberland, says he was the first one to discover that the action of the House in regard to the gerrymander is unconstitutional. He says he pointed it out to Mr. Davies.

The notice of Sir John Thompson that the House will meet at 11 o'clock on Wednesday and sit day and night until the gerrymander bill is put through, is a threat of bulldozing the Opposition, which is viewed here with indignation by all parties of the House. This is not calculated to withdraw the Opposition which is being manifested against the infamous measure. Tory members refuse to stay unless they get increased indemnity, and this is how Thompson proposes to meet the difficulty.

Archbishop Duhamel has returned from the Pacific coast. He speaks in enthusiastic terms of the West as a field for settlement.

SOUTH AMERICA.

New President of Ecuador—Refused to Bless Brazilian Flags—Financial.

RIO JANEIRO, June 18.—The Bishop of Rio to-day refused to bless Brazilian flags, declaring them to be merely symbols of the sect of Positivists. His action is generally approved by the Catholic people here, as the Republican flag, which is made by the Positivist high priest of Brazil, bears the communistic motto of "Order and Progress." The feeling is very general against receiving Positivism as an official religion.

DUPLICATION OF CABLES.

NEW YORK, June 18.—It is announced that the Central and South American Telegraph Co., of New York, have arranged a duplication of cables on the Pacific coast. The duplicate cable will be laid in three sets, and will be operated by an automatic duplex apparatus.

ORPHANAGE BURNED.

VALPARAISO, June 18.—The Salvador Orphanage was burned last night; no lives lost. It was founded by Donna Juana Edwards.

A BITTER ATTACK.

SANTIAGO, June 18.—It is reported that Carlos Walker Martinez, leader of the Conservative party, is preparing a bitter attack upon the present Government.

ARGENTINE COUNCIL OF STATE.

BUENOS AYRES, June 18.—President-elect Pena has named Admirals Mitre and Roca and Senor Ingoyen as members of the Argentine Council of State. Owing to the large sale of gold by the Bank of London, value has receded at Monte Video. The bank syndicate announces the arrival of $2,000,000 silver for circulation.

PRESIDENT OF ECUADOR.

QUITO, June 18.—Louis Cordero has been elected President of Ecuador by the National Congress. Cordero is a moderate Liberal, while Camello Ponce was put up by the church party and a wing of the Liberal party which was opposed to Cordero, because he was the Government candidate.

The British Elections.

LONDON, June 17.—In the House of Commons to-day Rt. Hon. Mr. Balfour notified the members that the dissolution would take place not later than June 29th or 30th. Rt. Hon. Mr. Gladstone and several Radical members denounced the Government for its petty meanness in not arranging matters so that the writs for the election of members to the new Parliament would reach the boroughs at a time to enable them to hold the elections on Saturday.

Russia at the World's Fair.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 18.—The commissioner-general of the Russian section of the World's Fair, with assistants, has started for Chicago to make the necessary arrangements. Russia contemplates making great exhibits from all parts of the empire of most varied and interesting character, comprising 12 divisions.

Behring Sea Arbitration.

LONDON, June 17.—It is announced officially that Hon. C. H. Tupper, son of the Canadian High Commissioner in London and Canadian Minister of Fisheries, has been appointed agent to represent Great Britain in the Behring Sea arbitration. Christopher Robinson and Wm. Cross, M.P., will be the British counsel.

AFFAIRS AT THE CAPITAL.

Discussion on the Gerrymander Bill —Mr. McCarthy's Attack on the Government.

The New Member for Frontenac—Questions Relating to Sir Adolphe Caron.

From Our Own Correspondent.]

OTTAWA, June 11.—Two weeks of the discussion on the redistribution bill is over, and still no one can tell when it will end. Indeed, as the debate extends it appears to get the more complicated, and the general opinion now is that the proper thing to arrive at is to ascertain by the courts whether or not our whole proceedings are legal or illegal. The best and brightest legal minds in Canada to-day have declared that Parliament has no right to legislate in the direction which we are now going. That being the case, is it not patent that the constitutionality of the whole matter should be at once settled. There are on the one side—that is, that the proposed action is illegal — the names of Mills, McDougall, McCarthy, Meredith, Davies, Fraser, Flint, Lister, Mowat and it is also said Blake; while on the other side there stand the Minister of Justice, among eminent legal men all alone, and Mr. Dickey and Mr. Weldon. The evidence with the Opposition is overwhelming. Right or wrong it cannot remain here. So much for the legal point raised by Mr. Davies.

MR. M'CARTHY'S AMENDMENT.

Those who have had the good fortune to have carefully watched the proceedings of Parliament for the last 12 or 14 years will come to the conclusion that the arraignment of the Government by the amendment of McCarthy, seconded as it was by Mr. O'Brien, was of the most complete and convincing character. This was not so much from the words used by Mr. McCarthy as from the position which he occupies in the country. Here was the ex-president of the Conservative Association of Ontario, an out and out Conservative, a man of ability second to none in the party, one who has through thick and thin voted with the Conservatives, if the schools and dual language questions be excluded, a tried and trusted friend of the late Sir John Macdonald, getting up in the House and stating that the whole policy of the administration was wrong in respect to redistribution. He did not deny but he did regret that he aided in placing the iniquitous gerrymander act of 1882 on the statute book. What he was anxious to see now was that the act be repealed and a new system adopted for the purpose of readjustment. Could there be anything more straightforward? I have never been a special admirer of Mr. McCarthy, for while his actions in regard to the schools and dual language were not openly in accord with the Conservative party, there is no reason to doubt but Sir John Macdonald was always able to keep the member for North Simcoe well within control. Last session, even after Sir John's death, Mr. McCarthy could have speedily ect which kept the Government in power, but he did not do so. Whatever he thought of other matters and the importance to be attached to them, he always placed the interests of the Conservative party on top. Under these circumstances it was both unjust and ungenerous for such men as Mr. Haggart to insinuate that he was guilty of treachery to the party. The Minister of Railways will regret having made that statement. Mr. McCarthy retorted with a blow which will forever leave its effect heavily imprinted on Mr. Haggart. "I have not," said the member for North Simcoe, "fallen so low as to recognize the Minister of Railways as my leader." Your correspondent had it from Mr. McCarthy himself a month ago that he was then pressing upon the Government to carry out the proposition embodied in the amendment. Not being able to do this, he informed the Premier what he intended doing. It is evident that if Mr. Abbott brought it to the attention of Sir John Thompson and Mr. Haggart, they wanted to administer a snub to Sir John Caldwell and Mr. McCarthy at the same time by stating to the House that they were unaware of the intentions of the member for North Simcoe. The old man Abbott is but a figurehead, and those who ignore the real leader, Sir John Thompson, will always find this out. This is a case in point. The majority against the amendment was 47, but many of those who voted with the Government did so under the party lash. Only Mr. McCarthy and Mr. O'Brien among the Conservatives voted for the amendment. The abuse, threats and insinuations hurled at them did not make them recede from the path of duty. All honor to them. Canada cannot but rejoice that even two men have been found in our political Sodom who on such an occasion were willing to stand up and condemn the iniquity which has been going on within.

THE MEMBER FOR FRONTENAC.

In Frontenac county yesterday Mr. Hiram Calvin was elected to the House of Commons by acclamation. He claims to be thoroughly independent of party, and has pledged himself to support all measures designed to reduce the burdens of taxation upon the industrial classes of the country. Mr. Calvin is in favor of a tariff for revenue only. He says the burden upon the consumer should not be heavier than is necessary to defray the expenses of government, and that the duties upon iron manufactures are too high. If Mr. Calvin adheres to his election programme Reformers will have no reason to find fault with his parliamentary course.

AFTER SIR ADOLPHE.

Sir Richard Cartwright has given notice of a series of 31 questions which he will ask in the House. They all have to do with the fac-similes of letters, vouchers and other papers published recently in the Toronto Globe, respecting the expenditure of more than $112,000 in 24 Quebec constituencies during the general elections of 1887, in the interest of Conservative candidates. The treasurer of the fund, on whom the requisitions were made, was Thomas McGreevy, then member for West Quebec. Sir Richard will ask if the Government is aware that these documents, if authentic, prove to the people of the Dominion that the attempt was made to carry a great number of the constituencies for the Government by an elaborately organized system of bribery and corruption, and that members of the Government of which Sir John Macdonald was head were actively engaged in this corrupt distribution of money. He will also ask whether the Government have called the attention of His Excellency the Governor-General to these documents, whether Sir Adolphe Caron has made any explanation to Lord Stanley or the Government about such of the letters and vouchers as purport to be signed with his name, whether Sir Adolphe Caron denies authenticity of the documents and intends entering an action for libel against the newspaper that published the fac-similes; and lastly, whether the Government intends causing a committee of the House to be appointed to investigate into said matters and particulars, to ascertain from and by whom the funds were supplied to Thomas McGreevy. It is not likely that Sir Richard Cartwright will obtain any very large amount of information from the Government in reply to his question, but he will secure the appearance in the Hansard and in official votes and by proceedings of the House of Commons of all the letters, vouchers and papers in question, of which fac-similes have already been given to the public.

CANADIAN NOTES.

News by Mail and Wire From All Parts of the Dominion.

Alex. Harrington, a young man, suicided at Toronto by cutting his throat.

Christopher Madden, aged 14, and Albert Seals, aged 15, were drowned at Toronto while bathing.

Malcolm Lamer & Co., wholesale milliners, Toronto, have assigned, with liabilities of $17,000; assets about the same.

The grand jury in the Toronto criminal assizes has found no bill against James Walsh, charged with the murder of a fellow coal heaver named Richard Walker.

The election petitions against Hon. Charles Tupper, Pictou; N. W. White, Shelburne; T. B. Flint, Yarmouth; and A. H. Gillmor, Charlotte, have been dropped.

The Nova Scotia Government has appointed John Howard, a former merchant in Halifax, but now a resident in London, as general agent for Nova Scotia in England.

Theodore Wilmot, aged 15, has been committed for trial at Orillia on four charges of forgery. He acknowledged the crime and says he knew he was doing wrong, but that he wanted money.

The Presbyterian General Assembly agreed to the formation of a new Presbytery of Algoma, to be included in the Synod of Toronto and Kingston. The Assembly adjourned to meet next June in Brantford.

Margaret Holmes, White Mair, wife of C. A. Magrath, M.L.A., of Lethbridge, N.W.T., died last week after an illness of about four weeks. Mrs. Magrath was a niece of Charles Mair, of Prince Albert.

At a meeting of the Niagara Falls Board of Trade a resolution was carried appointing Erastus Wiman of New York as their representative at the International Congress of the Chambers of Commerce, to be held in London on June 28th.

The Ontario Medical Council, after discussing the question of reciprocity between the various provinces in the matter of the recognition of degrees, appointed a committee to meet a committee from other provinces at the annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association at Ottawa in September next.

Mr. Hogg, C.E., and party have just completed the trial line for the Medicine Hat-Macleod division of the Crow's Nest Pass road. The line, which keeps north of both the Belly and Saskatchewan rivers, is a remarkably easy one for railway construction, there being only two crossings of any account, the Big Bow and Little Bow. Mr. Hogg's instructions were to strike the main line at any point between Bowell and Langevin. The latter was chosen because of the more level nature of the country surrounding it.

The members of the stationing committee of the Montreal Methodist Conference had much trouble in stationing the ministers. "I have been working on the committee for over 24 years," said a clergyman, "and we never experienced such trouble as this year." It was stated that a chief cause was that none of the clergymen had superannuated, and of the thirteen deaths eleven were superannuates, so that there was no elasticity. As a result some men got promotions, but at the expense of others who receded for a while.

Death recently removed one of the oldest, if not the very oldest, resident of the county of Argenteuil, when Mr. David Rodger, sr., passed away at the advanced age of 96 years. The deceased enjoyed good health up to Sunday last, but the aged frame could stand but for a short time the illness which set in. Mr. Rodger was born in Greenock, Scotland, in the year 1796, and emigrated to Canada in 1831, taking up in the same year the farm upon which he died. He leaves alive six children, 31 grand-children and 15 great grand-children, in all 52.

The Manitoba Government's first crop bulletin for this year shows the acreage under crop to be 1,340,370 acres, a decrease from last year of 9831. The decrease is altogether in wheat, there being an increase in all other grains. This spring has been the most backward in 10 years, both work and growth being retarded. The general opinion of correspondents, however, is that the crops are in a very healthy state, though a little late, and with sufficient heat and moisture there will be an excellent harvest. Roots and vegetables are growing rapidly, and live stock is in good condition. The bulletin gives the condition of things on June 1st, since which the weather has been all that could be desired. The only element now to be feared is frost.

Rev. J. Gough Brick, of Shaftsbury Church of England mission, arrived at Edmonton from Peace River on Thursday last, having left on May 21st. Crops were further advanced there when he left than at Edmonton now, although seeding was two weeks later than usual. Snow was very deep during the past winter, and a crust formed which caused considerable loss of horses amongst the Indians near Dunvegan and Fort St. John's. Rabbits are becoming numerous and a number of moose were killed, so that the Indians did not suffer much from hunger. But the Beaver Indians, the natives of Peace River, are rapidly dying out and will soon be extinct. They are being replaced by Crees and halfbreeds from the Saskatchewan.

The Good Derived from

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

All Run Down With Dyspepsia

The peculiar combination of stomach tonics and alterative remedies in Hood's Sarsaparilla cannot be equalled, and this superiority explains the wonderful success of in cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion and similar troubles. Mr. T. A. Wheelock, a well known citizen of Burlington, Vt., writes:

"Six months ago I was badly run down and unable to attend to business. The principal trouble seemed to be due to indigestion and aggravated dyspepsia. I had no appetite,

Nothing Tasted Good

and what I did eat distressed me. Added to this was a nervous disturbance. Physicians that I employed failed to reach my case. I grew worse, lost flesh and almost hope. One day I ran across a testimonial for Hood's Sarsaparilla stating what it had done in what seemed to be a case similar to mine. I got a bottle and in three or four days saw that I felt better. Before I had finished the first bottle, was greatly improved. Rested better, felt better, and knew I was

Better All Over

I continued with the medicine, and have taken two bottles and now feel better than at any time for the past five years. Feel as hearty as when a boy. Have regained my flesh, have good appetite, can sleep well, and my nerves are in excellent condition. I would not value a thousand dollars for what it did for me." T. A. WHEELOCK, Burlington, Vt.

Fully Indorsed

"We have sold Mr. T. A. Wheelock several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and have heard him tell in high terms of commendation what it has done for him. I know that he has recommended to many others here. Our customers generally speak well of it." F. L. TAFT & Co., Pharmacists, Burlington, Vt.

Japan Still Excited Over Political Matters—The New Parliament's Experience.

Work of the Missionaries—Popularity of the Canadian Pacific Steamships.

From Our Own Correspondent.]

HIYOSAKI, Japan, June 2.—The new Diet was convened by Imperial transcript early last month. You will remember that the dissolution of the old House in January last was owing to a deadlock between the Upper and Lower Houses. This collision grew out of a long standing enmity and only culminated at that time in the discussion of the budget. The Upper House brought down their estimates for the approval of the Government, whereupon several important items were absolutely and wholly rejected. There was nothing left to do but dissolve the Diet and appeal to the people. After the elections had taken place it was extremely difficult to tell how the new Diet would act in the premises. The two great parties—progressive and Radical—had fought hard for the power, but while each was fairly successful yet it was well known that a very strong independent party was elected, and this new party would certainly have much to do in giving color to the new House. And now what has been the result? As I have already intimated, the Diet met early in May. All eyes were turned towards the capital. All minds were deeply anxious concerning the outcome. The whole empire felt that the event was one of the most important crises in its history. The anxiety and excitement reached a climax, when upon the third or fourth day of the Diet's session it was peremptorily prorogued for eight or ten days. This was owing to the passage of a bill setting forth the fact that the Government had taken a too active part in the recent elections, and had in many cases used undue influence with the electorate in order to maintain their position. Furthermore, the bill provided for the appointment of a committee to wait upon His Imperial Majesty and explain the nature of the complaint. As soon as the committee did its work and His Majesty understood the matter, the Diet was prorogued.

By this time the public mind was greatly excited. The press could speak of no other subject. People refused to talk of any other matter. The great question on every lip was: What is the result to be—the dismissal of the Cabinet or the dissolution of the Diet? According to the new constitution the creation of the Cabinet is the sole prerogative of the Emperor. It is composed of princes, nobles and other distinguished men. Its dismissal as well as formation rests with the Emperor. Many, therefore, thought that the Diet in making these representations to His Majesty already referred to, was exceeding its authority, for in substance the representatives meant the dismissal of the Cabinet. Others openly impeached the motives of the new Diet, while others again and again asserted that many who voted for the bill did not fully understand its serious nature and had no idea that anything like prorogation or dismissal would take place.

In the meantime the Radical party, by whom this bill was brought forward, and through whose efforts it obtained a good majority, were exultant. They felt it was a victory for them, and that ere long the seals of office and the keys of the treasury would be handed to them. The days of the prorogation passed anxiously by, and at last the Diet again met in session, but only to find that the storm had passed over without the expected outbreak. It is not definitely known how the crisis was averted, but it is pretty generally understood that this new Independent party to which I have referred has had something to do with the reconciliation, and that through their withdrawal from the combination with the other great parties, the wheels of legislation are in motion once more.

The question of the new commercial code has been engaging the attention of the House since the interruption. This code was to come into force the first day of next January, but there is a strong opposition to it in the Diet owing to the sweeping reforms the bill is intended to introduce. Perhaps it will be laid on the table for another year. I see by to-day's Mail that the budget has been brought down and the very first day of discussion the House threw out the whole estimate for the improvement of the navy. This looks as though the old trouble is soon going to repeat itself. Evidently the two Houses are bound to come into collision. I am inclined to think that we are on the eve of a little political trouble. Do not think that anything serious will ensue, but there must certainly be some change soon. As to the nature of the change no one can safely speak just at present.

Religious matters are about the same as they have been for some time. The different Christian organizations are preparing for their several annual meetings. It is thought that the forthcoming reports of the year's work will be much more encouraging than those of last year. A few days ago two gentlemen called to see me, one a Dane and the other a Swede. Some 15 of these people came to Japan last December for mission work. Shortly after their arrival one of their number, a lady, fell a victim to smallpox and died. These people came to work independently. They are sent here, not by any board, but by local congregations. They possess a fine spirit, and no doubt will prove a success in this land of so many different kinds of missioners.

The new American Minister arrived by the last mail and immediately took up his residence in Tokio. He is a Californian and, though a young man, has been a political leader in his native state for several years. Lieut. Hetherington, who shot Gower Robinson in Yokohama, and who was acquitted by the American consulate, became reconciled to his wife and has returned with her and their little child to the United States.

Canadians in Japan feel justly proud of our new boats running between Yokohama and Vancouver. They are making good time, and their accommodations are being highly praised by all who have taken passage in them. There seems to be no doubt as to their popularity, for it is easily seen that they are getting the lion's share of the passenger and freight traffic. It is to be greatly desired that the company may soon see its way clear to put on one or two more such good boats, so as to make the connections once in two weeks instead of monthly, as it now is. J. W. W.

Cable Notes.

LONDON, June 17.—Arabi Pasha has accepted the £1000 a year offered him to take nominal charge of a tea garden on the salubrious and bracing hills of Haputale. It is understood that his position is to be, to a great extent, a sinecure, as Arabi knows more of theoretical politics than tea culture, but Mr. Lipton hopes to reap great profits in Egypt and elsewhere from a brand of Arabi-grown Ceylon tea.

BERLIN, June 17.—The Cologne Gazette says the condition of mad King Otto of Bavaria is now merely negative. He is unable to distinguish persons even in familiar habiliments. His attendants have the greatest difficulty in getting him to take food.

PARIS, June 17.—Heavy hail storms have done great damage in the vineyard district of Montpelier. The Journal Des Debats declares that the adverse harvest reports are exaggerated, and says the yield of wheat will be vastly superior to the crop of 1891, but that barley and oats have suffered severely. There has been a fall of 50 to 100 francs per head in the prices of stock, due to the fears of a scarcity of forage.

BERLIN, June 17.—A dispatch from Zanzibar says that Emin Pasha is not dead, as reported. He has recovered from the smallpox and has arrived at Bokoba.

KASLO CITY
KOOTENAY LAKE.
SINCE the opening of navigation many hundreds of people have poured into Kaslo City. The discoveries of last fall have proved as rich as expected, and many new ones, fully as important, have been located this spring. The Kaslo-Kootenay Land Company have built roads and trails into the important mines, and surveys have been completed for the railway. The contract for clearing the right-of-way for the latter will be let in a few days. Many substantial buildings have been erected so far this year, and a large number will be begun immediately, including a handsome hotel.
A large number of business and residential lots have been sold, and many have changed hands at a good profit. In a short time the Company will advance the price of all lots.

FOR TARIFF REFORM.

Unless Mr. Hiram A. Calvin, the newly elected member for Frontenac, was indulging in mere talk for the purpose of deceiving the Liberals, the independent section of the Conservatives will be strengthened by his presence in Parliament. After the seat became vacant and Mr. Calvin was chosen as their candidate by the Conservatives of the county, the Liberals decided not to offer opposition to his election provided he went some distance in the direction of meeting their views on the trade and other questions. Mr. Calvin's speech on nomination day, when he was allowed to go in by acclamation, would seem to show that he was quite ready to satisfy this condition. Here is part of his address, as reported in the Mail:—"I was asked by Mr. Clyde, who had practically the Reform nomination, if I would state to him my views on two questions. One was in reference to boodling and the other in respect to trade matters. Those of you who know me know that whatever will stop boodling I am in favor of. I will support any measure stringent enough to proect our public moneys. I think the Government deserve credit for what has been done in this direction by throwing men out of Parliament and in other ways. I am in favor of enacting such measures as will put down improper dealings with public funds. In reference to free trade, I am in favor of lightening the burdens on the consumer. I dare say that some of the statements I am about to make will not be in line with the extremists in the party who have nominated me. I want to be an independent Conservative, and won't change my views. The burden on the consumer should not be heavier than what is necessary for carrying on the affairs of the country. The present Government did a good stroke when it took $3,000,000 off sugar. The duties on iron are too high. I am in favor of lightening the burden on the people so far as is compatible, so that sufficient funds can be raised. The less funds created the less temptation there will be in the direction of boodling. I believe in trade being mutual. We must expand if we are going to be any good. To profit from trade the country must grow outwards. If we build a barrier around the county of Frontenac we would never amount to much. Let the people work under such conditions as will enable them to carry on trade with other nations. We should cultivate trade with our neighbors to the south of us. I am in favor of trade with them. I know that the McKinley bill has given us a black eye, but it will not be long before a change in this law is made. Trade with the Mother Country is good and I refer especially to the cattle export trade. I shall do my best to forward the interests of those who have placed this public trust in me." Mr. Calvin's opinions on the trade question are certainly much at variance with those of the Conservative party generally, and it is somewhat significant to find a Conservative of long standing thus entering parliament on a platform of tariff reform.

WATERLOO.

This is the seventy-seventh anniversary of the greatest battle in the world's history, Waterloo, "as we English call it," or Mont St. Jean, according to our Gallic friends. There are men living to-day who can remember the tremendous anxiety of that time and the wild joy that shook the world when the news came that the despotism of Bonaparte had been shattered forever. In the twenty years that preceded the eventful 18th of June, 1815, a greater number of world-shaking events had happened than in the twenty centuries before. Sans-Culottism began by flinging Louis' gory head at the feet of astounded European conservatism and monarchy. Democracy, like the irresistible, deep-bubbling fires of Ætna or Vesuvius, had burst the crust of caste and class, steamed forth in bloody fury and forevermore planted its feet as the real owner of the soil. Mirabeau's Ciceronian periods gave place to the hyena screech of Jean Paul Marat and the reverberating voice of Danton; bonfires of Tuilleries palaces instead of Chinese lantern illuminations in the fairyland of Versailles. Place de la Concorde had ditches daily supplied with fresh blood. The ruin of the Bastile was the tombstone of aristocracy. And phœnix-like from the ashes of old France sprang the "upstart Corsican." From the first his course was like a meteor's in a murky sky. He began killing men at Toulon and the barricades of the Place de la Revolution, and fulfilled scriptural prophecy by "going up and down the land like a roaring lion seeking whom he might devour." "'Twas the Spanish ulcer that killed me," he murmured at Saint Helena, grudging credit to his masterly opponent. But the fatal symptoms only became visible at the lipes of Torres Vedras and the decline was swift until the "last gasp" at Waterloo, with its preliminary Titanic writhings at Ligny and Quatre Bras. There has been nothing in the world of such universal moment since Waterloo, nor is there likely to be for some time. Still there are grave questions to be settled in Europe; the conditions which have given birth to socialism and anarchism must undergo some change, while the rivalry which has laid on European countries their vast burden of militarism must be settled in one way or other. Europe and the world may see some notable changes before the centenary of Waterloo arrives.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The delay in appointing a coroner is no evidence that the Government is trying to find the best man for the office. Either Dr. Watt or Dr. Hasell would fill the position properly, and the former especially would have brought more than medical knowledge to bear upon the duties of the position. The delay is unavoidable, because it is a rule with the Government never to act with expedition when they can avoid doing so. It will perhaps be necessary to have a caucus of the party on the matter.

It seems possible to stand too near a heavy cannon's mouth and yet be out of the way of the projectile. There is danger from the air pressure caused by the discharge. A London paper states that experiments were made during the last trip of the cruiser Beowulf to determine the amount of this pressure. Rabits were placed near the muzzles of the guns, and shots fired. In every case the animal fell dead at once. In order to test the probable effects of the enormous displacement of air upon human beings, figures made of straw were used. These were torn to pieces in every instance. The trials were made with the long-bored 24 centimeter ring guns.

Some sensation has been created in the East by the vigorous attack which Rev. Dr. Douglas, the veteran Methodist clergyman, made on Sir John Thompson. In an address to the Niagara Conference the venerable doctor defended his arraignment of Sir John Thompson of a year ago, and maintained that the events of last year had further proved that Sir John Thompson was not a man to be trusted by the people of Canada. In vigorous terms, Dr. Douglas maintained that the new gerrymander of which Sir John Thompson stands sponsor "would be sufficient, if perpetrated in England, to blight the reputation of any Minister, however influential. The trail of the serpent runs through it all. It cannot be that it shall pass—that this man shall prostitute the electorate of this country for his personal ambition. We discuss this subject without the rancor of party, without personal animosity, but in what we would desire to be a spirit of fairness."

Mr. Blake does not yet seem to have decided on his answer to the invitation extended to him by the Home Rule leaders to occupy an Irish seat in the Imperial Parliament. The Montreal Witness states that this is not the first, nor perhaps the second time, such an offer has been made to Mr. Blake. It seems likely that he will feel compelled to decline this as he has done the others, and the Globe is probably right in surmising that he will stay in Canada, where his services are surely needed as much as in the British political field. The Globe's special cable says in regard to this matter: "The proposal that the Hon. Edward Blake should accept a seat in the British House of Commons meets with warm approval in Liberal circles here, where Mr. Blake's character and ability are highly appreciated. The Pall Mall Gazette says it is a most popular idea, and Mr. Blake will make a most valuable member."

Our morning contemporaries cannot afford to quarrel over the Canadian Western or Canadian Northern, as the case may be. Victorians both, it is the right of neither, by mistaken zeal or malicious opposition, to injure the prospects of an enterprise, at the crucial moment of its birth, which is destined to benefit the city to an incalculable extent. A stupid and inconsiderate friend sometimes does one more harm than an open enemy. We feel convinced that if the morning papers will leave the railway project alone for about a week, that Col. Kane and Mr. Rithet and the Chicago syndicate and the Government will be better pleased, and that the whole question by that time will be definitely settled one way or the other. The only person who can see any fun in the articles published by both papers about the Canada Western is Col. Northey, the resident agent of the rival company, who has, it must be admitted, some cause for smiling at the discordant tune the "inspired" organs are playing.

The Globe has wound up its list of document, relating to the reptile fund with the facsimile of a tabulated statement showing the amounts drawn from Treasurer McGreevy for the campaign of 1887. The list reads thus: Press, $5500; Quebec Centre, $4100; Quebec East, $2300; Montmagny, $2200; Montmorency, $2900; Levis, $3500; Berthier, $1600; Gaspe, $1500; Bellechasse, $3900 Rimouski, $2750; Kamouraska, $3000; Temiscouata, $2250; Yamaska, $4000; Champlain, $3000; St. Maurice, $2500; Charlevoix, $3000; Chicoutimi, $2250; Portneuf, $3000; L'Islet, $2500; Beauce, $2500; Megantic, $2500; Lotbiniere, $1350; Drummond, $700; Dorchester, $3000; Joseph Hamel, petty, $2500; Quebec County, $18,500; Three Rivers, $16,800; Charlevoix, second election, $1000; Quebec West, $8000. The total is $112,600. Editorially the Globe says: "By-and-bye, when it is deemed opportune, another batch of documents will be printed, not bearing upon the expenditure, for that branch of the case may now be considered closed, but referring to other matters of great public interest."

Financial Crisis in Uruguay.

MONTE VIDEO, June 18.—Minister of Finance Ramorez refuses to consider the request of the president to retain office, declaring that the financial situation is calamitous. There is a panic on the bourse, values have declined and the Government gives a guarantee for paper issued.

Brief Telegrams.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 18.—Judge J. B. Morgan, ex-congressman from Mississippi, was killed this morning near Horn Lake by Henry Foster, a lawyer. Foster walked into the car and fired two shots into Morgan's head.

HONGKONG, June 18.—The C. P. R. steamer Empress of China sailed from Hongkong this morning.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, June 18.—A work train on the branch of the Burlington road ran into a drove of cattle three miles north of Gladstone this morning. The engine and cars were ditched. Engineer Robinson and three laborers were killed, over twenty laborers more or less injured.

OAKLAND, Cal., June 18.—The Judson Iron Works, robbed last Saturday of $15,000 in gold while being brought from the San Francisco Bank by the secretary of the company, sent over today the funds to pay the men but this time sent three men armed with shotguns to guard the two men carrying the money.

NEW YORK, June 17—Rapid transit commissioners have reported in favor of an underground railroad from the Battery to Yonkers.

Eastern Earthquakes.

The Japanese Advertiser of the 4th inst., says: Reports which have come in show that the earthquake of yesterday morning was felt over a considerable area. It was preceded about twenty minutes past four by a slighter shock. At Tokyo the shocks were felt at 4h. 23m. 46s., and 7h. 9m. 57s. respectively. Kamakura also reported the occurrence of an earthquake but did not specify time; Choshi Observatory noted at 7h. 9m. a severe shock which lasted for 30 seconds; at various places in Chiba Prefecture a shock was felt; a similar report comes from Ibaraki Prefecture; Nagoya noted a slight shock at 7h. 7m. 41s; in Shizuoka the oscillation was observed and its occurrence at Numazu, Niligata and Ishinomaki was noted respectively at 7h. 10m. 38s., 9h., and 7h. 12m.

On the evening of May 16th, about 8:15 p.m., Singapore, Johore and Penang experienced a severe shock of earthquake, which happily resulted in neither loss of life nor damage to property. The vibration, however, was sufficiently alarming to drive people out of their houses and cause great commotion. Telegrams from Deli (Sumatra) report sharp earthquake shocks there between 8 and 8:15 p.m. on May 16th.

THE SECRET SOCIETIES.

The Grand Lodge A. F. and A. M. to Meet at Nanaimo Next Thursday Morning.

The Wade-Ottaway Dispute in the C. O. O. F., M. U.—The Orangemen's Picnic.

The principal events among the secret societies during the past week was the meeting of the Supreme Lodge A.O.U.W. and the decision in the Ottaway-Wade case, which has been interesting the members of the C.O.O.F., M.U. It was expected that that Supreme Lodge A.O.U.W would finish their business this evening, but reports of delays make it seem likely that it will be the middle of next week before the delegates start for home.

A press dispatch from St. Catharines, Ont., says the Canadian Order of Odd Fellows have elected P. A. Collins, Toronto, their grand master. The Ottaway brothers, of Victoria, who brought charges against the district lodge which they were unable to prove, were suspended for six months and ordered to make an ample apology before reinstatement. This makes a total of twelve months' suspension.

The High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters has decided that hereafter the examining physician will be appointed by the executive committee instead of by the subordinate councils. A new rule has been introduced whereby a brother in good standing at the age of 70 may withdraw 10 per cent. annually of his endowment. The high court will meet at Ottawa next year. During the recent meeting a proposal to make ladies members of the order was rejected.

The members of C. O. O. F. (M. U.) at Mount Tolmie entertained their lady and gentlemen friends last evening. A very pleasant evening was spent.

At the regular meeting of Loyal Orange Lodge, 1610, held last evening, several members were initiated in the blue degree. Three brothers were also advanced in the Royal Scarlet Chapter. The committee appointed to arrange for the excursion to Vancouver on the 12th of July appointed sub-committees to make final arrangements. The steamer Yosemite has been chartered, and will call at Saanich to take on the members of the Saanich lodge.

The Oddfellows executive committee have determined at the last moment to abandon the idea of holding a mass meeting at the Trades and Labor Hall this evening. The committee having received further dispatches from Bro. Wm. E. Ottaway, will now await his return.

The Grand Lodge A.F. & A.M. meets in Nanaimo at 10 a.m. next Thursday. Delegates from all parts of the province will be present to take part in the deliberations. The election of Grand Lodge officers for the ensuing year will take place.

Segher's Council, Y.M.I., meets on Monday evening for the election of officers.

The delegates of the Young Ladies' Institute leave for San Francisco next Wednesday. They are Miss McDowell, Miss Baines and Miss Skinner. The Seattle and Tacoma delegates will accompany them. The Grand Council of the Y.L.I. meets in Oddfellows' Hall's San Francisco, on the 27th, and will be in session four days.

Court Vancouver, A.O.F., hold its regular meeting on Monday evening, when the excursion committee's report will be received; also nomination of officers. Court Northern Light will meet on Thursday evening, when the same business will be brought before it.

Sunset Lodge, K. of P., will hold its regular meeting this evening.

Far West Lodge, K. of P., met last evening and transacted routine business.

A PRIZE PORTRAIT REBUS.

This young lady has three brothers, each one of whose picture is combined in the above portrait. The manufacturers of PEARLIFOAM, THE LATEST SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY FOR CLEANSING AND PRESERVING THE TEETH, will give a handsome Gold Watch to the person who can make out the faces of the three brothers FIRST; to the second an elegant pair of genuine DIAMOND EARRINGS; to the third a PIANO LAMP in Antique Silver; to the fourth either a SILK DRESS PATTERN or a SWISS MUSIC BOX playing six pieces; to the fifth a beautiful pair of PEARL OPERA GLASSES; to the sixth an elegant MANTEL CLOCK; to the seventh a pair of SOLID GOLD CHAIN BRACELETS, with Padlocks, and to the eighth a COIN SILVER WATCH.

Each contestant is to cut out the picture rebus and make a cross with a lead pencil on the three brothers faces, and send same to us, with ten three-cent Canadian postage stamps (or 30 cents in silver) for one package of Pearlifoam, before July 20th, 1892. The envelope postmarked first which contains the three brothers' faces correctly marked will receive the first prize, the balance in order as received. For the last correct answer we will also give a handsome Gold Watch; to the next to the last a complete BUSINESS EDUCATION; to the second to the last an elegant pair of genuine DIAMOND EARRINGS; to the third from the last a PIANO LAMP in Antique Silver; to the fourth a SWISS MUSIC BOX playing six pieces; to the fifth a SILK DRESS PATTERN; to the sixth a pair of PEARL OPERA GLASSES; to the seventh an elegant MANTEL CLOCK, and a valuable prize will also be given to every person who is able to answer this picture rebus correctly until 100 prizes have been awarded if there should be that number answering correctly. Nothing is charged for boxing and packing prizes. We shall offer extra premiums to all who are willing to help us introduce Pearlifoam. Our prizes are entirely FREE. Our object is to introduce and attract attention to Pearlifoam, which is the only preparation whose manufacturers are willing to offer a reward of $100 to any dentist who can show that it contains anything injurious to the teeth. Ladies who have used Pearlifoam cannot say too much in its favor. A mouthful of pearly white teeth is the sure result of its constant use. It is recommended by the leaders of the profession everywhere, ask your dentist what he thinks of it.

Pearlifoam is sent by mail postpaid. Prizes in the above Portrait Rebus are to be carefully awarded strictly as deserved. Address, EXQUISITE TOILET M'F'G. CO., 170 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont.

New Goods.

Spider Leg Japan Tea, Formosa Oolong Tea, extra Ceylon buds, at R. H. Jameson's Red Front, 33 Fort St.

Sheffield cutlery at Fox's, 78 Government street.

Strawberry Festival.

The Presbyterians of Cedar Hill will hold a strawberry festival on Tuesday evening next. The farmers are going to afford a chance for a "straw ride" to those attending from town. The hay wagons will leave the Fountain at 7:30.

Lumbermen Meet.

The regular meeting of Lumbermen's Association was held yesterday evening, when several matters only of interest to the association were discussed. None of the mills are running full capacity, but business is steady and prices remain the same.

The Order Made.

An application was made in Supreme court chambers this morning in the case of Young vs. the Phoenix Insurance company, for an order to strike out paragraphs 6, 9 and 10 in the defendants amended statement of claim. The order was made.

At the Police Court.

Chas. Smith was summoned to appear at the police court this morning, to answer to a charge of leaving his horse untied on the street, and John H. Lyons, a professional musician, was arraigned on a charge of being a frequenter of a house of ill-fame. At the request of the chief of police Smith's case was remanded till Monday and Lyons till Tuesday.

Synod of British Columbia.

A new synod of British Columbia, to consist of the presbyteries of Vancouver Island, Westminster, Kamloops and Calgary, has been created by the Presbyterian General Assembly. Rev. D. MacRae, of this city, was appointed moderator and the first meeting will be held at Vancouver on the third Wednesday in July.

A Pleasant Evening.

The concert and strawberry festival held last evening in the school room of the First Presbyterian church by the Ladies' Aid, was largely attended and a very pleasant evening was spent. The following programme was rendered: Instrumental duet, the Hall Brothers; vocal solo, Miss Field; recitation, Mrs. Walt; solo, Mr. Watson; instrumental duet, Mrs. Hall and Miss Munsie; solo, Mr. Gold; recitation, Mr. Mellon; solo, W. D. Kinnaird.

Welcomed Their Friends.

There was a reception and muck-a-muck last night in Chinatown in honor of the arrival from the orient of several prominent Chinese gentlemen on the Empress. Everybody had a most cordial time and the guests of the evening were treated as become Cantonese junk dealers of high degree. No unpleasant difference of opinion marked the occasion, and the dog-steak pie and rodent fricassee were most impartially helped. The function was presided over by Mr. Sing Suey assisted by Dr. Foong Wah in their usual skilful manner.

Killed a Panther.

This morning, John S. Muir of Sooke, brought to the city a large panther head and secured from Sergeant Langley $5 bounty. The vigorous bleating of a calf yesterday made Mr. Muir think there was something wrong, and in company with his brother and a gun loaded with buckshot he proceeded to investigate. They came to where the calf (a yearling) was, and thinking that it had got its head caught beneath a large log tried to pull it out, when they saw the panther. It had a firm hold of the animal and would not let go, until a charge of buckshot was sent into its brain. The panther was an exceptionally large one and very dark in color.

The Charity Bazaar.

On Monday and Tuesday next the ladies of the city will conduct the bazaar in aid of the Jubilee Hospital in Assembly Hall. No pains have been spared to make the occasion a complete success. The amount of material of all descriptions gathered together to stock the tables is beyond belief. Hundreds of beautiful articles of fancy work and as many more for useful household purposes will be exposed for sale. The various booths have been placed in charge of ladies eminently fitted to discharge well the duties appertaining to the same. There will be first-class music and refreshments and many forms of amusement during the bazaar. It remains for the male portion of the community to attend with well-filled purses and see how beautifully the mare can be made to go with the said cash.

Came Down With a Run.

Great was the fall of the old drill shed this morning about 9 o'clock. The noise thereof was so considerable as to alarm most of the residents in James Bay ward. In the limited space of time popularly known as a jiffey every door and window in the neighborhood had a fringe of asserted heads peeping out. The gentleman with toast and boiled eggs all over his whiskers rushed upon the sidewalk and yelled "My sakes, what in thunder's happening, anyway?" He was soothed and sent back to his breakfast. Another came running down the street roaring like a bull, "Where's the fire?" The whole of the main structure was pulled down at once. The roof made a great din as it went crashing to the earth and pulled in the walls after it. By next Wednesday the debris will be cleared away and the work of digging out for the foundations will commence.

Queen of Comedies.

The rate at which the reserved seats for the high-class comedy, "Jane," have been taken indicates that Manager Cort of the Victoria has made a decided hit in bringing the company here. The play is of the society description, and caters directly to the refined taste. It is full of intensely ludicrous situations, and the merriment never fails from first to last. The dialogue is very clever, witty and sparkling, and the impersonators are perfect in their parts. The cast is the strongest, both individually and collectively, ever put together. Miss Johnstone Bennett was formerly with Richard Mansfield, and Paul Arthur was Nat Goodwin's leading man. Both Messrs. R. F. Cotton and Arthur Clarke are well known English actors and comedians. A one-act curtain-raiser, entitled "Chum," will precede each performance. The reserve plan can be seen at Jamieson's bookstore.

Whiskey Did It.

Jim, a Saanich Indian, came to town yesterday with a load of strawberries. He sold all his fruit, got in a supply of bad whiskey and this morning ended his spree by falling from his wagon and being arrested. During the night he lost what money he had made.

Where Will These Ships Run To?

The North China Daily News gives currency to the rumor that the Messageries Maritimes (French line) having lost a good many passengers by the opening of the Canadian Pacific Steamship line, are contemplating establishing themselves a service of steamers across the Pacific.

Incoming Passengers.

Passengers per Walla Walla for Victoria: Mrs. C. Hutchinson, Mrs. E. Niles, C. H. Tracy, J. C. Thompson and wife, A. Thompson, Mrs. Cameron and daughter, O. Thompson, A. C. Gray, G. Thompson, J. W. THE RIFLE.

SNIDER VS. MARTINI-HENRI.

In the rifle match which took place yesterday afternoon at Macaulay's Point, between a team of officers from H.M.S. Warspite and a like team from C. battery, the sailors won by seven points, and succeeded in piling up a very respectable score. The naval officers used the Martini-Henri; the C. battery team the long Snyder. The difference in the shooting qualities of the two arms is such as to make the score achieved by the military men most creditable. The scores are as follows:

THE GUN.

At the adjourned meeting of the Northwest Sportsmen's Association, held in Seattle on Thursday night, Victoria was chosen as the place for the next annual meeting, which will be between the 10th and 15th of June, 1893, under the auspices of the Victoria Gun Clubs. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, T. A. Bringham, Tacoma; first Vice-President, W. A. Storey, Portland; second Vice-President, W. A. Eberly, Tacoma; third Vice-President, C. W. Minor, Victoria; Secretary and Treasurer, J. McB. Smith, Victoria; Directors, W. L. Dudley, Portland; F. S. Maclure, Victoria; E. E. Ellis, Tacoma; W. R. Dodge, Tacoma; James West, Seattle.

YACHTING.

NEW LONDON, June 18.—The steam yachts Vamoose and Norwood left at 12 o'clock to-day for the starting point of the proposed race, four miles off Race Rock light and 10 miles from here. The Vamoose was at the start and ready to go five minutes before the appointed time, but the Norwood did not go to the line. She steamed as far as Race Rock, then turned and put back to this port. There was a fair tide and wind for the race, but the water was a trifle rough for open boats like the Norwood, and that is the reason why she did not start.

LACROSSE.

MONTREAL, June 18.—The Montreal and Toronto Lacrosse clubs played here to-day. The Torontos took one and the Montrealers four games.

CORNWALL, Ont., June 18.—The Capitals of Ottawa and the home club are playing lacrosse here to-day. At 4:30 p. m. the Capitals have three and the Cornwalls one game.

BASEBALL.

The James Bays and the V.A.C.'s will play a game on Saturday afternoon next if the Caledonia grounds can be secured for the match.

Mr. W. Martius, graduate of the Kullak conservatory, Berlin, has come to Victoria highly recommended as an organist and teacher of the piano. He has taken rooms at 10 Blanchard street and is prepared to receive pupils who earnestly intend to take thorough technical and musical instructions.

AGENCIES TO BE ESTABLISHED.

Mr. Dodwell, of the Northern Pacific Railway Line, in the City.

The Company Will Put on Permanent Steamers in September.

Mr. Geo. B. Dodwell, representing the Northern Pacific Steamship company, and Mr. Alexander Stewart, a gentleman who has had many years' experience in steamship business, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dodwell is a member of the English company which are running the steamers. He expresses himself as thoroughly satisfied with the Phra Nang's trip, both as to the quantity of cargo carried and the time made across the Pacific. The Phra Nang is, he said, but one of the temporary boats that are to do the work until the permanent ones are ready, which, it is expected, will be about September or October.

The steamer Parthia, which is to be one of the permanent boats, will not be known when she arrives here. She is being thoroughly overhauled and will be made comfortable and commodious. The other boats will be as good, if not superior to the Parthia.

The principal object of Mr. Dodwell's trip was to establish agencies in this city and at Tacoma. Mr. Stewart takes charge of the company's business at Victoria and an office will be opened as soon as Mr. Dodwell returns from Tacoma, where he goes to-morrow evening.

"There is one thing you can say for certain," said Mr. Dodwell, "that is that the boats will call at Victoria both coming and going."

Mr. Stewart, who is to take charge of the Victoria office, recently arrived from Shanghai, and is thoroughly posted regarding the Oriental trade.

PERSONAL.

Movements of Well Known People in Various Directions.

J. C. Keith, Vancouver, is in the city.

A. Ewen, of New Westminster, is in town.

THE CANADA WESTERN.

Mr. R. P. Rithet Did Receive a Telegram From the Chicago Bank.

There was a great deal of talk to-day on the streets in regard to the different reports of the papers about the Canada Western scheme.

Mr. R. P. Rithet, in conversation with a TIMES reporter to-day, said that at present he preferred to say nothing about the matter. The company and the Government had not yet come to terms and in fact there were a few preliminaries to settle between the local company and the Chicago capitalists. He thought it advisable not to publish the telegram he had received from the First National Bank, stating that bonds were up, until the negotiations were further advanced.

The telegram referred to was from the vice president of the First National Bank, Chicago. The authenticity of the telegram, the TIMES is informed on good authority, cannot be questioned. It is further understood that the deposit in Chicago covers $25,000, and the balance of the $50,000 is to be put up in Victoria. It is quite apparent that the whole matter is in process of settlement, with a strong probability that it will be satisfactorily arranged in the course of a few days. In the meantime the rival morning organs are only doing the project an injury by respectively bulling and bearing the enterprise. The people want facts, and facts only, and these—as far as the promoters will give them at present—have all been published in the TIMES.

MORAL REFORM ASSOCIATION.

The Meeting in the Y.M.C.A. Hall Last Evening Strictly Private.

A meeting of the Moral Reform Association was held in the Y.M.C.A. rooms last evening with closed doors.

The object of the association is to help any movement that has for its object the moral welfare of the citizens, to see that laws against the prevailing evils are properly administered, to agitate for such changes in the law as may be necessary in the interest of the people and to see that candidates for municipal honors are men that can be trusted to take an interest in the moral as well as the material welfare of the city. The association was not formed in hostility to the properly constituted authorities, but holds itself at liberty to take up any question that may arise bearing on the morals of the city. The objects of the society are divided into five classes; 1st, the restriction of the liquor traffic; 2nd, the enforcement of the law in regard to the social evil; 3rd, to prevent gambling; 4th, to protect minors and 5th, to induce a better observance of the Lord's day. The members pledge themselves to give their hearty support to assist in carrying out these objects.

At the meeting a general discussion took place on the moral condition of the city and methods of promoting reforms. Officers were also elected, but the members refused to even make their names public.

CLERGY AND LAITY.

The Refusal to Grant Lord Bishop Hills a Coadjutor Causes a Deadlock.

The item regarding the resignation of Lord Bishop Hills, which appeared this morning in the Daily News, has caused much displeasure among the members of the Anglican church in this city. The question between his lordship and the synod is not generally understood outside of the Episcopal church, and a plain statement of the case may serve to show its importance.

His lordship at the late session of the synod applied for a coadjutor under the canon contained in the by-laws of the synod. The canon provides, first, for the appointment by his lordship of a coadjutor; second, the definition of his duties; third, the power of succession. The clergy have the privilege of voting first, and they were unanimously in favor of the whole canon. The laity then voted in favor of the first provision, but refused to support the other two, thus nullifying the whole canon, or at least making it inoperative. The three clauses are inseparable, and it was mere waste of time voting for the first and against the other two. His lordship felt disappointed at the action of the synod, and this feeling is shared by the clergy generally.

The Lord Bishop has just completed thirty-three years of arduous labor in this city. When he came here in 1859 Victoria had little more than a name; it was a collection of poor huts, a grim spot for a man of high refinement and intellectual capacity to be cast away. But he went manfully to work and has seen the city expand into its present beauty and dimensions. Under his careful management the church in this province has grown to be the strongest and most prosperous colonial church in the world. His lordship is nearing ninety years of age, and although still enjoying a great measure of the vigor of his earlier years must soon resign to another the carrying on of the work he commenced and carried out so faithfully.

It was his lordship's wish to select someone to whom he could transmit his thirty-three years' of experience, and fully familiarise with the work of the diocese before finally resigning his present position. The selection made by his lordship would have been in the best interests of the diocese. Under the present circumstances it is possible that the person selected may not be acceptable to the laity and further complications are likely to grow out of the refusal of the Synod to appoint the coadjutor. The resignation of his lordship is the matter of only a few months, as his great age makes it impossible for him to much longer engage actively in the duties of the church.

The Chemist and the Explorer.

When Stanley returned from his last expedition to Africa he told the world that he had found an inexhaustible supply of rubber trees in the interior of that dark continent. This at the time was intensely interesting, but it has lost very much of its interest since Rigby, the chemist, has made it possible for us to have tweeds, worsteds and any of the various wool materials from which our clothing is made, rendered perfectly waterproof, without changing either their appearance or the porus nature of the cloth in the slightest degree. Ladies or gentlemen may now have an outer garnment made from material to their taste, which will keep out the rain without their experiencing any of the discomforts produced by a rubber coat.

IT IS GOOD TO FORGET.

Forgetfulness in Certain Cases One of the Sublimest Attributes of the Deity.

Dr. Talmage Delivers an Eloquent Plea for the Exercise of Charity and Mercy.

BROOKLYN, June 5.—The enormous audience which thronged the Tabernacle this morning had fresh evidence of Dr. Talmage's originality. The value of a retentive memory every one knew by experience and had heard extolled from their school-days up, but they learned from Dr. Talmage's sermon that the art of forgetting is worth cultivating; and that there is the highest possible example for its exercise. His text was Hebrews viii, 12, "Their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more."

The national flower of the Egyptians is the heliotrope, of the Assyrians is the water lily, of the Hindoos is the marigold, of the Chinese is the chrysanthemum. We have no national flower, but there is hardly any flower more suggestive to many of us than the forgetmenot. We all like to be remembered, and one of our misfortunes is that there are so many things we cannot remember. Mnemonics, or the art of assisting memory, is an important art. It was first suggested by Simonides of Cos five hundred years before Christ.

Persons who had but little power to recall events, or put facts and names and dates in proper processions, have through this art had their memory re-enforced to an almost incredible extent. A good memory is an invaluable possession. By all means cultivate it. I had an aged friend who, detained all night at a miserable depot in waiting for a rail train fast in the snowbanks, entertained a group of some ten or fifteen clergymen likewise detained on their way home from a meeting of presbytery, first, with a piece of chalk, drawing out on the black and sooty walls of the depot the characters of Walter Scott's "Marmion," and then reciting from memory the whole of that poem of some eighty pages in fine print.

My old friend through great age lost his memory, and when I asked him if this story of the railroad depot was true, he said, "I do not remember now, but it was just like me." "Let me see," said he to me, "have I ever seen you before?" "Yes," I said, "you were my guest last night and I was with you an hour ago." What an awful contrast in that man between the greatest memory I ever knew and no memory at all.

But right along with this art of recollection, which I cannot too highly eulogize, is one quite as important, and yet I never heard it applauded. I mean the art of forgetting. There is a splendid faculty in that direction that we all need to cultivate. We might through that process be ten times happier and more useful than we now are. We have been told that forgetfulness is a weakness and ought to be avoided by all possible means. So far from a weakness, my text ascribes it to God. It is the very top of omnipotence that God is able to obliterate a part of his own memory. If we repent of sin and rightly seek the divine forgiveness, the record of the misbehavior is not only crossed off the books, but God actually lets it pass out of memory.

"Their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more." To remember no more is to forget, and you cannot make anything else out of it. God's power of forgetting is so great that if two men appeal to him, and the one man, after a life all right, gets the sins of his heart pardoned, and the other man, after a life of abomination gets pardoned, God remembers no more against one than against the other. The entire past of both the moralist, with his imperfections, and the profligate, with his debaucheries, is as much obliterated in the one case as in the other. Forgotten, forever and forever. "Their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more."

This sublime attribute of forgetfulness on the part of God you and I need, in our finite way, to imitate. You will do well to cast out of your recollection all wrongs done you. During the course of one's life he is sure to be misrepresented, to be lied about, to be injured. There are those who keep these things fresh by frequent rehearsal. If things have appeared in print, they keep them in their scrapbook, for they cut these precious paragraphs out of newspapers or books, and at leisure times look them over, or they have them tied up in bundles, or thrust in pigeonholes, and they frequently regale themselves and their friends by an inspection of these flings, these sarcasms, these falsehoods, these cruelties.

I have known gentlemen who carried them in their pocketbooks, so that they could easily get at these irritations, and they put their right hand in the inside of the coat pocket over their heart and say: "Look here! Let me show you something." Scientists catch wasps and hornets and poisonous insects and transfix them in curiosity bureaus for study, and that is well. But these of whom I speak catch the wasps, and the hornets, and poisonous insects, and play with them, and put them on themselves and on their friends, and see how far the noxious things can jump, and show how deep they can sting. Have no such scrapbook. Keep nothing in your possession that is disagreeable. Tear up the falsehoods, and the slanders, and the hypercriticisms.

Imitate the Lord in my text and forget, actually forget, sublimely forget. There is no happiness for you in any other plan or procedure. You see all around you, in the church and out of the church, dispositions acerb, malign, cynical, pessimistic. Do you know how these men and women got that disposition? It was by the embalmment of things pantherine and viperous. They have spent much of their time in calling the roll of all the rats that have nibbled at their reputation. Their soul is a cage of vultures. Everything in them is sour or imbittered. The milk of human kindness has been curdled. They do not believe in anybody or anything. If they see two people whispering, they think it is about themselves. If they see two people laughing, they think it is about themselves.

Where there is one sweet pippin in their orchard, there are fifty crab apples. They have never been able to forget. They do not want to forget. They never will forget. Their wretchedness is supreme, for no one can be happy if he carries perpetually in mind the mean things that have been done him. On the other hand, you can find here and there a man or woman (for there are not many of them) whose disposition is genial and summery. Why? Have they always been treated well? Oh, no. Hard things have been said against them. They have been charged with officiousness; and their generosities have been set down to a desire for a display, and they have many a time been the subject of tittle-tattle, and they have had enough small assaults like gnats and enough great attacks like lions to have made them perpetually miserable, if they would have consented to be miserable. But they have had enough divine philosophy to cast off the annoyances, and they have kept themselves in the sunlight of God's favor and have realized that these oppositions and hindrances are a part of a mighty discipline, by which they are to be prepared for usefulness and heaven. The secret of it all is, they have by the help of the Eternal God learned how to forget.

AN APT ILLUSTRATION.

Another practical thought: When our faults are repented of let them go out of mind. If God forgets them, we have a right to forget them. Having once repented of our infelicities and misdemeanors, there is no need of our repenting of them again. Suppose I owe you a large sum of money, and you are persuaded I am incapacitated to pay, and you give me acquittal from that obligation. You say: "I cancel that debt. All is right now. Start again." And the next day I come in and say: "You know about that big debt I owed you. I have come in to get you to let me off. I feel so bad about it I cannot rest. Do let me off." You reply with a little impatience: "I did let you off. Don't bother yourself and bother me with any more of that discussion."

The following day I come in and say: "My dear sir, about that debt. I can never get over the fact that I owed you that money. It is something that weighs on my mind like a millstone. Do forgive me that debt." This time you clear lose your patience and say: "You are a nuisance. What do you mean by this reiteration of that affair? I am almost sorry I forgave you that debt. Do you doubt my veracity or do you not understand the plain language in which I told you that debt was canceled?"

Well, my friends, there are many Christians guilty of worse folly than that. While it is right that they repent of new sins and of recent sins, what is the use of bothering yourself and insulting God by asking him to forgive sins that long ago were forgiven? God has forgotten them. Why do you not forget them? No; you drag the load on with you and 365 times a year, if you pray every day, you ask God to recall occurrences which he has not only forgiven but forgotten. Quit this folly. I do not ask you less to realize the turpitude of sin, but I ask you to a higher faith in the promise of God and the full deliverance of his mercy. He does not give a receipt for part payment or so much received on account, but receipt in full, God having for Christ's sake decreed, "your sins and your iniquities will I remember no more."

As far as possible let the disagreeables of life drop. We have enough things in the present, and there will be enough in the future to disturb us, without running a special train into the great gone-by to fetch us as special freight things left behind. Some ten years ago, when there was a great railroad strike, I remember seeing all along the route from Omaha to Chicago, and from Chicago to New York, hundreds and thousands of freight cars switched on the side tracks, those cars loaded with all kinds of perishable material, decaying and wasting. After the strike was over did the railroad companies bring all that perished material down to the markets? No, they threw it off where it was destroyed, and loaded up with something else.

Let the long train of your thoughts throw off the worse than useless freight of a corrupt and destroyed past, and load up with gratitude and faith and holy determination. We do not please God by the cultivation of the miserable. He would rather see us happy than to see us depressed. You would rather see your children laugh than to see them cry, and your heavenly Father has no fondness for hysterics.

DON'T SHOW IGNOBLE SCARS.

Not only forget your pardoned transgressions, but allow others to forget them. The chief stock on hand of many people is to recount in prayer meetings and pulpits what big scoundrels they once were. They not only will not forget their forgiven deficits, but they seem to be determined that the church and the world shall not forget them. If you want to declare that you have been the chief of sinners and extol the grace that could save such a wretch as you were, do so, but do not go into particulars. Do not tell how many times you got drunk or to what bad places you went, or how many free rides you had in the prison van before you were converted. Lump it, brother; give it to us in bulk.

If you have any scars got in honorable warfare, show them; but if you have scars got in ignoble warfare, do not display them. I know you will quote the Bible reference to the horrible pit from which you were digged. Yes, be thankful for that rescue, but do not make displays of the mud of that horrible pit, or splash it over other people. Sometimes I have felt in Christian meetings discomfited and unfit for Christian service because I had done none of those things which seem to be in the estimation of many necessary for Christian usefulness, for I never swore a word, or ever got drunk, or went to compromising places, or was guilty of assault and battery, or ever uttered a slanderous word, or ever did any one a hurt, although I knew my heart was sinful enough, and I said to myself, "There is no use of my trying to do any good, for I never went through those depraved experiences;" but afterward I saw consolation in the thought that no one gained any ordination by the laying on of the hands of dissoluteness and infamy. And though an ordinary moral life, ending in a Christian life, may not be as dramatic a story to tell about, let us be grateful to God rather than worry about it, if we have never plunged into outward abominations.

It may be appropriate in a meeting of reformed drunkards or reformed debauchees to quote for those not reformed how desperate and nasty you once were, but do not drive a scavenger's cart into assemblages of people, the most of whom have always been decent and respectable. But I have been sometimes in great evangelistic meetings where people went into particulars about the sins that they once committed so much so that I felt like putting my hand on my pocketbook or calling for the police lest these reformed men might fall from grace and go at their old business of theft or drunkenness or cutthroatery. If your sins have been forgiven and your life purified, forget the waywardness of the past and allow others to forget it.

GOD'S GREAT MERCY.

But what I most want in the light of this text to impress upon my hearers and readers is that we have a sin forgetting God. Suppose that on the last day—called the last day because the sun will never again rise upon our earth, the earth itself being flung into fiery demolition—supposing that on that last day a group of infernal spirits should somehow get near enough the gate of heaven, and challenge our entrance, and say: "How canst thou, the just Lord, let those souls into the realm of supernal gladness? Why, they said a great many things they never ought to have said, and they did a great many things they ought never to have done. Sinners are they; sinners all."

And suppose God should deign to answer, he might say: "Yes, but did not my only Son die for their ransom? Did he not pay the price? Not one drop of blood was retained in his arteries, not one nerve of his that was not wrung in the torture. He took in his own body and soul all the suffering that those sinners deserve. They pleaded that sacrifice. They took the full pardon that I promised to all who, through my Son, earnestly applied for it, and it passed out of my mind that they were offenders. I forgot all about it. Yes, I forgot all about it. 'Their sins and their iniquities do I remember no more.'" A sin forgetting God! That is clear beyond and far above a sin pardoning God.

How often we hear it said, "I can forgive, but I cannot forget." That is equal to saying, "I verbally admit it is all right, but I will keep the old grudge good." Human forgiveness is often a flimsy affair. It does not go deep down. It does not reach far up. It does not fix things up. The contestants may shake hands or, passing each other on the highway, they may speak the "Good morning" or the "Good night," but the old cordiality never returns. The relations always remain strained. There is something in the demeanor ever after that seems to say, "I would not do you harm; indeed, I wish you well, but that unfortunate affair can never pass out of my mind." There may no hard words pass between them, but until death breaks in the same coolness remains. But God lets our pardoned offenses go into oblivion. He never throws them up to us again. He feels as kindly toward us as though we had been spotless and positively angelic all along.

A STORY OF THE PRAIRIE.

Many years ago a family, consisting of the husband and wife and little girl of two years, lived far out in a cabin on a western prairie. The husband took a few cattle to market. Before he started his little child asked him to buy for her a doll, and he promised. He could, after the sale of the cattle, purchase household necessities, and certainly would not forget the doll he had promised. In the village to which he went he sold the cattle and obtained the groceries for his household and the doll for his little darling. He started home along the dismal road at nightfall.

As he went along on horseback a thunderstorm broke, and in the most lonely part of the road and in the heaviest part of the storm he heard a child cry. Robbers had been known to do some bad work along that road, and it was known that this herdsman had money with him, the price of the cattle sold. The herdsman first thought it was a stratagem to have him halt and be despoiled of his treasures, but the child's cry became more keen and rending, and so he dismounted and felt around in the darkness and all in vain, until he thought of a hollow that he remembered near the road where the child might be and for that he started, and sure enough found a little one fagged out and drenched of the storm and almost dead. He wrapped it up as well as he could, and mounted his horse and resumed his journey home.

Coming in sight of his cabin, he saw it all lighted up and supposed his wife had kindled all these lights so as to guide her husband through the darkness. But, no. The house was full of excitement and the neighbors were gathered and stood around the wife of the house, who was insensible as from some great calamity. On inquiry the returned husband found that the little child of that cabin was gone. She had wandered out to meet her father and get the present he had promised, and the child was lost. Then the father unrolled from the blanket the child he had found in the fields, and, lo! it was his own child and the lost one of the prairie home, and the cabin quaked with the shout over the lost one found.

How suggestive of the fact that once we were lost in the open fields, or among the mountain crags, God's wandering children, and he found us, dying in the tempest, and wrapped us in the mantle of his love and fetched us home, gladness and congratulation bidding us welcome. The fact is that the world does not know God, or they would all flock to him. Through their own blindness, or the fault of some rough preaching that has got abroad in the centuries, many men and women have an idea that God is a tyrant and oppressor, an autocrat, a Nana Sahib, an Omnipotent Herod Antipas. It is a libel against the Almighty, it is a slander against the heavens; it is a defamation of the infinities.

I counted in my Bible 304 times the word "mercy," single or compounded with other words. I counted in my Bible 473 times the word "love," single or compounded with other words. Then I got tired counting. Perhaps you might count more, being better at figures. But the Hebrew and the Greek and the English languages have been taxed till they cannot pay any more tribute to the love and mercy and kindness and grace and charity and tenderness and friendship and benevolence and sympathy and bounteousness and fatherliness and motherliness and patience and pardon of our God.

There are certain names so magnetic that their pronunciation thrills all who hear it. Such is the name of the Italian soldier and liberator, Garibaldi. Marching with his troops he met a shepherd who was in great distress because he had lost a lamb. Garibaldi said to his troops, "Let us help this poor shepherd find his lamb." And so, with lanterns and torches, they explored the mountains, but did not find the lamb, and after an unsuccessful search late at night they went to their encampment. The next morning Garibaldi was found asleep far on into the day, and they wakened him for some purpose and found that he had not given up the search when the soldiers did, but had kept on still farther into the night and had found it, and he pulled down the blankets from his couch and there lay the lamb, which Garibaldi ordered immediately taken to its owner.

So the Commander of all the hosts of heaven turned aside from his glorious and victorious march through the centuries of heaven and said, "I will go and recover that lost world, and that race of whom Adam was the progenitor, and let all who will accompany me." And through the night they came, but I do not see that the angelic escort came any farther than the clouds, but their most illustrious leader came all the way down, and by the time his errand is done our little world, our wandering and lost world, our world fleecy with the light, will be found in the bosom of the Great Shepherd, and then all heaven will take up the cantata and sing, "The lost sheep found."

ALL ARE INVITED.

So I set open the wide gate of my text, inviting you all to come into the mercy and pardon of God; yea, still further, into the ruins of the place where once was kept the knowledge of your iniquities. The place has been torn down and the records destroyed, and you will find the ruins more dilapidated and broken and prostrate than the ruins of Melrose or Kenilworth, for from these last ruins you can pick up some fragment of a sculptured stone or you can see the curve of some broken arch, but after your repentance and your forgiveness you cannot find in all the memory of God a fragment of all your pardoned sins so large as a needle's point. "Their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more."

And none of that will surprise you if you will climb to the top of a bluff back of Jerusalem (it took us only five or ten minutes to climb it), and see what went on when the plateau of limestone was shaken by a paroxysm that set the rocks, which had been upright, aslant, and on the trembling crosspieces of the split lumber hung the quivering form of him whose life was thrust out by metallic points of cruelty that sickened the noonday sun till it fainted and fell back on the black lounge of the Judean midnight.

Six different kinds of sounds were heard on that night which was interjected into the daylight of Christ's assassination; the neighing of the war horses, for some of the soldiers were in the saddle, was one sound; the bang of the hammers was a second sound; the jeer of malignants was a third sound; the weeping of friends and coadjutors was a fourth sound; the plash of blood on the rocks was a fifth sound; the groan of the expiring Lord was a sixth sound. And they all commingled into one sadness. Over a place in Russia where wolves were pursuing a load of travelers, and to save them a servant sprang from the sled into the mouths of the wild beasts and was devoured, and thereby the other lives were saved, are inscribed the words, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend."

Many a surgeon in our own time has in tracheotomy with his own lips drawn from the windpipe of a diphtheritic patient that which cured the patient and slew the surgeon, and all have honored the self sacrifice. But all other scenes of sacrifice pale before this most illustrious martyr of all time and all eternity. After that agonizing spectacle in behalf of our fallen race nothing about the sin forgetting God is too stupendous for my faith, and I accept the promise, and will you not all accept it? "Their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more."

Your Blood

Undoubtedly needs a thorough cleansing this season to expel impurities, keep up the health-tone and prevent disease. You should take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier and system tonic. It is unequalled in positive medicinal merit.

EMPRESS OF JAPAN.

The Last C.P.R. Boat Brings the Heaviest Trans-Pacific Cargo.

The R.M.S. Empress of Japan, Capt. Lee, R.N., cast anchor off the outer wharf last evening about 6, eleven days from Yokohama. She had a most uneventful passage, the sea being calm all the way; there was scarcely any wind. The Japan brought 276 Chinese for British Columbia and the Sound, 102 Japanese and the heaviest cargo ever carried across the Pacific, 2600 tons. The ship was drawing 25 feet aft. The Islander went out to meet her and take her Victoria passengers. The European passengers numbered 123 and are as follows:

THE OKANAGAN VALLEY.

Good Crop Prospects—Fruit Canning—Proposed Railway Extension.

From the Vernon News.]

General dissatisfaction is expressed at the condition of the Mission Valley roads.

A petition has been forwarded to Ottawa, praying for the establishment of a postoffice at Larkin.

Deer are stated to be exceptionally numerous this year on the hills east of Duck lake valley.

Throughout the Okanagan the promise of bountiful crops is apparent, and substantial improvements are being made in keeping with the prosperity of the settlers.

It is understood that the C.P.R. intend building a telephone line between Vernon and Osooyos.

Large strings of silver trout are being brought in by local anglers and prove a welcome variation from a prolonged diet of beef straight.

The celebration to be held at Vernon on Dominion Day promises to be a great success, a very attractive programme having been got out by the sports committee.

A receiving house for fruit will be built this year at the Guisachan ranch, Okanagan Mission, and the same figure will be given for fruit received there as at the cannery about to be built at the terminus of the S. & O. by Lord Aberdeen.

The orchards throughout the Okanagan country give promise of large crops this year. No insect pests of any kind have as yet made their appearance among the trees.

It appears to take an unnecessarily long time to obtain letters patent for a rural municipality in the interior. The petition for the Spallumcheen municipality, signed by a large majority of the residents of the valley, was forwarded to Victoria early in March. On May 9th it was sent back to Spallumcheen to obtain a signature already subscribed to it, and was again forwarded to Victoria. There is considerable feeling against this delay amongst the principal promoters.

Mr. T. Wood, J. P., who for the past 30 years has resided in Okanagan, states that from personal observation he is confident that the trout in the various creeks running into Okanagan and Long lakes have been steadily decreasing, and attributes this entirely to the traps which the Indians place clear across the mouth of the creeks. There were three together, he says, for years in Long lake creek, making it impossible for any fish to get up to spawn. If this illegal "fishing" were allowed to continue, there is little doubt that the lakes in this district would in course of time become entirely depleted of fish. A local fisheries overseer, who would attend to the duties of his office, is urgently needed.

On Mr. O'Keefe's farm 600 acres of spring wheat and 60 of oats have been sown. Over 300 acres are in summer fallow. Very little ploughing was done in the fall. Mr. O'Keefe is also putting up nearly seven miles of Russell fence and has planted 200 fruit trees.

A representative of the News lately questioned Mr. Geo. Riley, secretary of the S.&O.R.R.Co. (who hold a Dominion charter permitting them to continue their line to Osooyos), as to the possibility of his company building a road from Penticton to the boundary line. Mr. Riley stated in reply that one thing was certain,—that as long as the S.&O. held the charter they would not put a shovel to work until a free right of way were granted them. They had been obliged to pay an exorbitant price for almost all the land traversed by the line of the S.&O., which was enhanced in value solely by the construction of the railway. If the people of the lower country wanted the line from Penticton to Osooyos to be built by them, they would have to grant a free right of way.

Mr. Gladstone and the Deputations.

LONDON, June 17.—There is a curiously unanimous outburst of approval in the Liberal and Tory newspapers of Mr. Gladstone's handling of the eight-hour question, in reply to the Trades Council delegation. Both sides, it is evident, are immensely relieved by the position which Mr. Gladstone assumed, and it is now believed that the issue is taken out of the impending election and relegated to the future. The Times dwells with manifest gratification on the fact that Mr. Gladstone's searching questions showed the delegates that they had but illy digested the subject. Mr. Gladstone, the Times says, left them not a leg to stand upon. The adverse comments on their position have made the workingmen more resolute in their purpose to obtain parliamentary legislation in favor of an eight-hour working day, and they will do all in their power to put forward and elect candidates pledged to that programme. Having disposed of the subject of the eight-hour question to his own satisfaction, Mr. Gladstone proposes now to deal with Ulster. At 3 o'clock to-morrow he will meet 60 ministers and representative laymen in the drawing room where Mr. Chamberlain addressed the dissenters in 1885, and will explain his attitude towards the Ulster movement. The explanation is looked forward to with the greatest interest, as it is believed the Nonconformist vote of Great Britain, and therefore the vote of the Liberal party in the coming election, may depend upon the ability of Mr. Gladstone to impress his views upon those Nonconformists, who have heretofore been his followers. It is regarded as significant that the three most prominent lights of the dissenting pulpits, Rev. Messrs. Parker, Berry and Clifford, will be absent from the gathering.

THE ULSTERMEN.

Strong Speeches and Resolutions in Opposition to Home Rule.

BELFAST, June 17.—It is estimated that there were 10,000 delegates and 20,000 spectators present at the opening of the Ulster convention to-day. The Duke of Abercorn took the chair, with the Mayor of Belfast in the vice chair. The convention opened with prayers by the Most Rev. Robert Knox, Protestant Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of Ireland, who offered up an earnest supplication for the success of the convention. The audience then joined in singing the forty-sixth Psalm; "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." The effect of the old covenanter voices was sublime. The people sang with the greatest fervor, especially when they came to the last verse. "The Lord of Hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our Refuge." The Duke of Abercorn announced that he had received 110 messages of earnest sympathy with the convention and its purpose, and from prominent Conservatives and Liberals throughout the world. One of the messages was from the Grand Orange Lodge of Massachusetts, heartily wishing success to the Ulster Loyalists. A dispatch was received from Glasgow, stating that 30,000 Scotch Orangemen pledged their support to their brethren in Ireland.

The Duke of Abercorn, in his opening address, declared that the Loyalists of Ulster were actuated in their course by love of country, of their families, their homes and their religion. They were determined to live and die in a portion of the Queen's Empire. A great danger threatened their civil and religious liberty and they intended to show that the name of Ulster was not a sham but a great reality. The speaker disclaimed any idea of holding out a threat or menace. He urged that the freedom and industries of Ulster should not be sacrificed for the vividly impossible scheme which was called Irish Home Rule, and, in the name of the loyal people of Ulster, he appealed to the people of England and Scotland, not to allow the hatching out of the Home Rule plot. The address of the chairman was repeatedly interrupted by applause.

Sir G. W. Ewart moved the first resolution, which declared that Ulster had won her position in advance of the rest of Ireland by sheer energy and honest work, and was determined not to surrender the position. Mr. Thomas Sinclair, in supporting the resolution, said that the people of Ulster were home free, and did not intend to bequeath the heirloom of slavery to their descendants. They were children of the revolution of 1668, and would treat Gladstone's Irish parliament as their forefathers had treated the enemies of Ulster and of Great Britain in the days gone by. When Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule policy came north, they would find the men of Ulster holding the barricks and court houses barricaded against them. The judges and tax collectors would find nothing but passive resistance. Mr. Sinclair's warlike speech was received with the greatest enthusiasm. The delegates shouted and waved their hats and handkerchiefs, but the speaker was obliged to pause for long intervals to allow the excitement to subside.

The Earl of Erne supported the resolution in a strong speech. He said if the Imperial Parliament, in a fit of insanity, should sell the men of Ulster into slavery, they would repudiate the law and not attend to its decrees. Rev. Dr. McCutcheon, president of the Methodist college, said those who now called themselves Home Rulers, had been the enemies of England and the Queen. Mr. John M. Egan, a farmer, spoke in favor of the resolution, and Mr. Thomas Andrews, president of the Ulster Liberal Reform Club, declared that Ulster would fight rather than yield to the ignorant shiftless South. Mr. Frank Johnston, a workingman, and Rev. Mr. Creggan, also spoke in behalf of the resolution, which was carried by a thundering affirmation.

Rev. Dr. Lynd moved the second resolution, to the effect that the hands of the Union of Ulster would be as quick to strike for the brethren outside of Ulster as for themselves. Rev. Dr. Kane, grand master of the Orangemen, seconded the resolution in a tone that was unexpectedly mild. He repudiated the charge that the Orangemen were bigots, but asserted that they were always ready to assist their brethren. Mr. J. D. Dunville, the well known distiller, Mr. W. J. Doulahan and others earnestly supported the motion, which carried.

The thanks of the convention were voted to the Duke of Abercorn, and then the great audience sang "God Save the Queen," the volume of song rolling up even more loudly although less impressively than the opening psalm. Nevertheless, in these days, the anthem has never been sung with more impelling effect. The meeting was closed by a blessing by Archbishop Knox. It is estimated that not less than seventy thousand people attended the meeting in the Botanic Gardens.

The full text of the resolutions adopted is as follows:

First—That we avow our fixed resolve to retain unchanged our present position as an integral portion of the United Kingdom, and to protest, in the most unequivocal manner, against the passage of any measure that would rob us of our inheritance, the Imperial Parliament, under the protection of which our capital has been invested and our homes and rights safeguarded.

Second—That we record our determination to have nothing to do with a Parliament certain to be controlled by the men responsible for the crimes and outrages of the Land League, the dishonesty of the plan of campaign, and the cruelties of boycotting, many of whom moreover have shown themselves ready instruments of clerical domination.

Third—That we declare to the people of Great Britain our conviction that the attempt to set up a Parliament in Ireland will inevitably result in disorder, violence and bloodshed, such as have not been experienced in this country, and announce our resolve to take no part in the election or the proceedings of such a Parliament, the authority of which, should it ever be constituted, we shall be forced to repudiate.

Fourth—That we protest against the great question which involves our lives, property and civil rights, being treated as a mere side issue in the impending election struggle.

Fifth—That we appeal to our countrymen, who have hitherto been in favor of a separate Parliament, to abandon a demand which hopelessly divides Irishmen, and unite with us under the Imperial Legislature in developing the resources and furthering the best interests of our country.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

VANCOUVER.

Another case of smallpox has developed. The patient is named Dockendorff, a law clerk, living at Mount Pleasant. It is believed he contracted the disease from Westminster Indians. The case is a severe one and will be quarantined at the patient's residence.

The insurance men here will banquet the fraternity of Victoria and Westminster at Meakin's hotel on Saturday night.

NANAIMO.

NANAIMO, June 18.—At an early hour yesterday morning a party of little folk, composed of the members of the Willing Workers of the Wallace Street Methodist Church, took charge of the parsonage, after successfully enticing the reverend gentleman and his wife away on a supposed errand. Immediately after Rev. Baer and his wife departed, a wagon drove up containing a beautiful parlor suite, and it was quickly made to replace the less elaborate one that had done service during the time the Rev. Mr. Baer has filled the position. Mrs. Baer, on her return, though somewhat taken by surprise at the liberty taken in her domains, thanked the doners in a few kind words. It would indeed be a difficult task to find a congregation who thought more of their pastor than do the congregation of this church. Sad indeed will be the day to them when they are called upon to bid the Rev. W. W. Baer and his wife farewell. During the time they have been in the city they have endeared many hearts to them.

One of Nanaimo's enterprising teamsters has devised a plan whereby he will water the principal parts of the business street three or four times a day, and in this enterprise he is almost unanimously supported by the business men. The water works company have restricted the sprinkling of the street, and in consequence something had to be devised to meet the requirements of the storekeepers. May Mr. Cocking be successful is the wish of everyone.

A sensation is promised to shortly take place in the court house here. The party is a woman, and her conduct has shocked the people of Northfield for some time. The police have taken the matter in hand and the woman will have to answer the charges laid against her next Tuesday.

The children attending the Wellington school enjoyed an outing yesterday on the invitation of the teachers, Mr. McKay and the Misses Ramsay. The picnic was held at Diver's lake and the little ones spent a happy time and enjoyed all the games promoted for their pleasure.

COURTENAY.

A public meeting of those interested in the Union Public Hospital was held in the schoolhouse, Courtenay, on Tuesday evening last. Mr. J. McPhee occupied the chair and a deputation of the Union committee, namely, Messrs. J. Y. Nicholls, (chairman), Andrew McKnight, Robert Grant and J. B. McLean (secretary) attended the meeting and explained the matter to the audience. The Union Colliery Company have very kindly given a splendid site, ready cleared, and all the lumber for the entire building, the erection of which is estimated to cost something like $2000. The internal fittings, beds, furniture, etc., will cost $1000 more, so that the committee are anxious to have at least $2500 in hand before commencing to build. By the Government grants of 1891 and 1892, the committee expect to receive in all the sum of $1000; $600 has been subscribed by the employes of the Union Colliery, leaving a balance yet to be provided of $1500. The Comox people have taken up the matter in earnest and an energetic committee, consisting of Messrs. W. Duncan, J. McPhee, Geo. McDonald and John McCann, has been appointed to solicit subscriptions in the Comox district, where a goodly sum is expected to be raised. They deserve every success.
